AMERICAS
A THEATRE COMPANY

Director's Note

Bringing L-O-V-E back to the stage with a new name, is both a thrill and a challenge. In its first production, this play struck a deep chord with audiences—its humor, its heartbreak, its raw honesty about love in all its messy, beautiful, and sometimes painful forms. In this remount, at Qtopia we have an opportunity not just to revisit the work, but to rediscover it.

Love is never static. It evolves, just as we do. Time changes how we love, how we remember, how we long. And so, in reimagining this piece, we approach it with fresh eyes, fresh faces (some old ones, too), new perspectives, and a deepened understanding of what it means to connect. This production honors the original and some new work while allowing space for new nuances to emerge.

Theatre is at its most powerful when it reflects life in all its contradictions. Love is tender and brutal, joyous and heartbreaking, intimate and isolating. This play doesn't offer easy answers, but it does offer truth. It reminds us that love—however imperfect—remains the force that shapes us the most.

Thank you for joining us in this experience. Whether you're seeing THIS IS L-O-V-E for the first time or returning to it, I hope it resonates in a way that feels new, personal, and deeply felt.

Special thanks to Boipelo, Richard Price at Sydney Sports Management Group, the team at Qtopia, Paulie from Point Break Drama, my incredible friend & playwright Allan, Rubes, and my one & only, Kirk.

With Gratitude,

Kai P.
